

NEWSLETTER

Dear Members,

Hi everyone. Another month has unbelievably shot past again, and it's time again to say "Hello" from the IIG.

The Informer

Our August Informer sponsored by Global Choices is busy taking shape and will reach you towards the end of August.

Website

Please remember that this is fully functional now and contains all the information pertaining to the IIG and details of our functions. A lot of our Members phone to ask about photographs of our functions, these are to be found under "Gallery". Visit the site!!

IIG / Academy of Learning FAIS Workshop: 10 July

Together with The Academy of Learning we hosted a FAIS Workshop on the 10 July at the Johannesburg Country Club. After a fascinating talk from Alan Heyl, yes, a member of the famed "Stander Gang" our 70 guests from various companies sat back to glean some information from Dugmore Mphuthing (SAQA), Peter Atkinson (IISA), Frank Van Der Meer (Unisa) and Elma Hancock (Academy of Learning) with regards to FAIS Compliance and Overlapping Unit Standards.

A full report written by Jenny Lawler will appear in the August "Informer".

Mid Winter Bash: 25 July 2008

What a fantastic turn out from all our Members! 195 People in total turned up for this Medieval evening at Greensleeves in Maropeng. Members started the night out by getting dressed up in Medieval costume and making their way to the Elizabethan Hall, where they were met with a welcoming drink of Gluhwein (to stave off the chill) and shown to their seats once their photograph had been taken. Anand and Grace Pillay played the role of King and Queen for the evening, keeping a beady eye on their subjects and reported any ill doing to the "Baron". It was great to see everyone joining in with all the "shannanigans" and leaving inhibitions and fears outside (as was instructed by the Baron). A thank you email summed up the evening perfectly: "Thank you for an amazingly festive, different and hilariously funny evening."

See the Informer for the full report and wonderful photographs.

Our thanks to Sponsors for the evening: Glenrand MIB, Swiss Re, Glasfit, Global Choices/One Loyalty.
